ASPS Needs YOU!

Volunteer opportunities are now available for professionals interested in the arts. As a start-up nonprofit poised to expand to the next level, our growth is dependent on the talent, knowledge and expertise of volunteers willing to share their background and skills. Do you have something to share? ASPS is seeking fundraising, bookkeeping and accounting specialists with familiarity in the nonprofit sector. Singers and Pianists interested in volunteer performance opportunities are also welcome. ASPS is also in the process of building a vibrant Board of Directors consisting of musicians, executives, professionals, and artists from other disciplines all working together to support, strengthen, and enhance the organization's mission. To learn more, contact, Blair Boone at blairboone@aspsny.org.
